

Do you have a favourite character from a book?
Well, now you have the chance to create your own!

Follow this step-by-step guide to draw an owl character and write them a fun backstory. Let's go!

You will need:

- 1 pen or pencil
- 1 red pencil crayon
- 1 blue pencil crayon
- 1 pair of 3D glasses

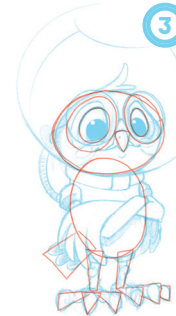

1. Draw your character

1 What shapes make up this owl? Try drawing them in the space below with your red pencil. You can use Picture 2 to help you.

2 This is a great start! Now use your blue pencil to add details, texture and an outline based on the shapes.

3 Once you know the basic shapes to use, you can experiment with poses and outfits. This little owl is going to space!

Take a look at your finished red and blue drawing through the red lens of your 3D glasses. What do you see?

Yes, all your working out shapes in red have magically disappeared! You can see your finished drawing clearly.

Now, let's learn a little more about your character...

2. Interview your character

When authors are creating characters for their books, they often imagine interviewing them.

Answer these questions as if you're the owl character you've just drawn. Get to know them!

Q1: What is your name?

A: _____

Q2: Where do you live?

A: _____

Q3: What do you do for fun?

A: _____

Q4: What's your most embarrassing moment?!

A: _____

Congratulations! You've created your own brilliant owl character.
