About Us

Inspire: Culture, Learning and Libraries was established in 2016 as a charitable community benefit society delivering cultural and learning services across Nottinghamshire. The society is owned and controlled by its members. Members are drawn from the community, and all staff become members of the society when appointed.

We deliver services from 60 buildings across Nottinghamshire and 4 mobile vehicles, have 700 people working for us and have an annual turnover of around £20M. The majority of funding for Inspire services comes from public funding.

Nottinghamshire County Council is the main funder for Libraries, Archives and Cultural services. The Education and Skills Funding Agency (ESFA) and the Arts Council England (ACE) also fund specific areas of delivery. Inspire is a National Portfolio Organisation (NPO) resulting in a £1.5M investment between 2023 – 2026 from ACE to deliver a cultural programme through the library service.

About the Opportunity

Our 12 member board is formed of staff and volunteers whose skills and experience enhance the development and leadership of the organisation. We have a mix of community-elected, staff-elected, co-opted and Nottinghamshire County Council nominated plus Inspire's CEO.

Community Board Director

Oct 2016 to Oct 2022

“Wow”, said a friend of mine .” I didn't know how much Inspire does for the people of Nottinghamshire.”

Quite frankly, that would have been my response before I became an Inspire board member several years ago.

I had always had an interest in books and libraries, but that was just the start. What I didn't realise was just how much more Inspire offers to local people.

The depth and range of its activities is so impressive. For example, there's the Education Library Service providing a vast range of books for schools and the Nottinghamshire Music Hub, which introduces a whole world of music tuition and singing for school children. And then there are the impressive opportunities for young people at the Inspire College and the adult learning offer accessible across the county.

As a board member, you are the eyes and ears of the local community offering feedback to Inspire's management team, offering suggestions to help and enhance its services.

The joy of being a board member is to see the enthusiasm, fun and commitment of the entire Inspire team - from the volunteers to the chief executive.

Without doubt, it's been a real privilege serving on the Inspire Board. I know so much more about the services that Inspire provides to the communities of Nottinghamshire, and ensuring those vital services continue and flourish.

Reading and learning have always been personal passions for me; I have such happy memories as a child of being in my local library and when I set up my first business, my local Inspire library was where I would go and work from. I've also always been fascinated by change in large organisations and being invited to play a role in an organisation which, at the time was going through significant and very exciting changes was a real privilege. The Inspire footprint in terms of the role it plays for people across Nottinghamshire - be that through library services, community & adult learning, it's music provision, it's archive service - is extensive and we know it is also life-changing.

With a background in organisational change, leadership coaching and with a passion for creative problem solving I feel I brought a 'how might we' perspective to the Board. Supporting such a dedicated and experienced Senior Leadership Team, I always felt my role was as an enabler, as a sounding board and as a critical friend.

Without a doubt the highlight of being a member of the Board for Inspire was the opportunity to meet and work with so many of the Inspire team and through my role as Chair of the Learning & Skills Committee inviting Inspire learners to each one of our meetings meant that we were able to hear first-hand the experiences of our learners and therefore ensure we were always focused on supporting learners to achieve the outcomes that were important to them.

Everyone at Inspire is so passionate and dedicated to having a positive impact on the local community and that is inspiring to be around!
