WELCOME TO YOUR NEW BEESTON LIBRARY NOVEMBER - MARCH SEASON OF EVENTS

This season your newly refurbished Beeston Library hosts a range of fantastic events. We welcome live jazz in partnership with Nottingham-based Jazz Steps, while budding artists can look forward to an exciting programme of professional art workshops with artists and makers from the Design Factory. There are also courses and workshops delivered by our very own Inspire Learning team to help you create, innovate and learn.

November sees the arrival of the A Year of Inspire exhibition in our dedicated gallery space, and as the nights draw in, join professional storyteller Nicky Rafferty for conversation, stories and cake.

In December, we host our very first comic fair, and celebrate the festive season with live family theatre and heritage stories of Christmases gone by. The new year brings great family fun with the chance to meet the Gruffalo plus join illustrator Steve Smallman for half-term fun. With events for book lovers, dance classes and our regular events, there really is something for everyone.

It's set to be an inspiring season!

Join our Victorian hosts to celebrate a traditional Nottingham Christmas from the past. Historical accounts from rich and poor, traditions and recipes - all stored at Nottinghamshire Archives - help us remember Christmases gone by. There's even a local ghost story!

READING BOOK CLUB LIVE: WITH BALI RAI AND KERRY YOUNG

Friday 19 January, 7pm

£5
Booking advised Adults (16+, under 18s to be accompanied by an adult)

Authors Bali Rai and Kerry Young talk about their journeys as writers and how they became published authors. Kerry was born in Kingston, Jamaica, to a Chinese father and mother of mixed Chinese-African heritage. She came to England at the age of ten. Kerry's background is in youth work, both locally and nationally, and has written extensively. Bali was born in Leicester in 1971 and grew up in a multicultural, multi-racial community. As a child he dreamt about three things - playing football for Liverpool FC, being Bob Marley and becoming a writer.

CREATIVE WORKSHOP
WRITE, PRINT, SHARE!
MAKE YOUR OWN ZINE
IN THIS TWO-PART WORKSHOP

Writing Workshop:
Saturday 10 February,
2pm – 4pm

Zine-making:
Saturday 24 February,
10.30am – 3.30pm

£15 for both sessions
Booking essential (limited places)
Adults

Make your own Zine and see your words in print in this two-part workshop featuring poet and writer Andrew Graves (formerly known as Mulletproof poet) and print studio Dizzy Ink. In part one, you'll work with Andrew to get inspiration for your poems and look at how to develop them for publication in your Zine.

In part two, it's time to get Zine-making! Having had time to develop your poetry, you'll work with Dizzy Ink to create an anthology of everyone's poems using Dizzy's specialist printing process, Risograph. Through group and individual activities, you'll learn how to work with image and layout as you design and edit your publication. You'll walk away with copies of your publications so you can showcase and share what you've created, and the work will also contribute to the Zines touring exhibition. Book now and turn your ideas into ink.

What is a Zine?

Zines are self-made and self-published magazines. They're motivated by freedom of expression rather than profit, and are created using various techniques such as collage, drawing and writing. Often photocopied and hand stapled, their DIY aesthetic and self-directed content makes them an empowering and democratic medium.

Andrew Graves regularly performs his work throughout the UK. He has appeared on numerous TV and radio programmes and performed alongside Henry Normal, John Hegley and Sleaford Mods.

Dizzy Ink is an exciting Nottingham-based print studio who deliver design and print projects, workshops, events and exhibitions.

EXHIBITION

ZINES

Saturday 10 March -
Saturday 21 April
Free
Suitable for all

Members of the public and school pupils have turned their ideas into ink and published their own printed and bound Zines. Some are anthologies of poems developed in workshops with poet Andrew Graves. All participants experimented to great effect with image, layout, design and editing in Risograph printing workshops with Dizzy Ink. We hope you will agree the resulting exhibition of highly original Zines is stunning!
